August Chapter

In the first chapter, Georgia's poor self-image is established, Angus is introduced and we learn Georgia has problems that are universal to every teen girl. The objectives of these questions are to examine the reasons for Georgia's lack of self-esteem and to examine Angus's significance as a character and to examine universal teen issues.

1. In a paragraph, describe how Georgia feels about herself. Is there anything about herself that she likes?

2. What do you think caused Georgia's lack of self-esteem? Societal pressure? Her family's influence? The media? Explain.

3. How long has Georgia felt this way about herself? Was there ever a time when Georgia had a positive self-image? What changed that caused her to be so self-conscious? Do you think her image of herself is accurate? Why or why not?

4. Why is the way in which Georgia adopted Angus significant? What information does it give the reader about Georgia's character?

5. What are the most significant problems that Georgia has? How common do you think Georgia's problems are for girls in her age group?

6. Are many of Georgia's problems related to her nationality? Or are most of her issues universal for girls her age? What are the problems she has that are universal?
